Dear Mr. Kahn:

I just wanted to thank you for all the time and effort you put in to help me improve my business's telecom services and cost effectiveness. You were thorough and went over all the areas of my telecom services (both business and personal) looking for operational and cost inefficiencies.

I am very pleased with the results of your work. I have clarity on the fact that some of my services were already optimized. On the services that needed improvement, I am now saving 32% per month on my telecom service bills.

The new carriers we are using are doing a fine job. We have not experienced any issues or downtime in the transition. In fact, if I didn't see a new name on the invoice, I wouldn't even know that I had changed services. Everything has been implemented seamlessly.

Down the road, I know there are other changes I will need to make to continue to keep my business abreast of the latest technology and innovations. I look forward to having you continue to provide your expertise to help me take advantage of these new services.

I would happily recommend your services to any other growing business and discerning business owner.

Best regards,

Robert W. Scott, CFP
President
