Dear Patrick,

I would like to take this opportunity to show my appreciation. During our initial meeting you emphasized how often a company, regardless of size, may be overlooking potential savings and efficiencies in their telecommunications system. As it turned out, we were one of those companies, but through your diligence and recommendations we were not only able to realize cost savings going forward but to improve our past telecommunications costs as well.

I would not hesitate to endorse Schooley Mitchell Telecom Consultants and will definitely refer you to colleagues in need.

Once again, thank you for your thorough and professional assistance.

Sincerely,

Neil White
