To whom it may concern:

Schooley Mitchell Telecom Consultants has been our communications advisor for the last two years. We had a real problem with out of control telephone expenses. Our situation was further complicated by the fact that our business had four different telephone service suppliers, two of which were independent phone companies. Schooley Mitchell analyzed the situation and came up with a solution that saved us a lot of money.

I would recommend their services to anyone looking for a way to save money and streamline their telecommunications setup.

Sincerely,
