To Whom It May Concern:

We are grateful that Matt Schlegel of Schooley Mitchell approached us to review our telecommunications service plans and reduce our telecommunications costs. We are so busy with church business that we do not have time to review these details. After taking the time to understand our current needs and usage, Matt came back to us with thoughtful recommendations, all of which we are pursuing. Since our organization relies heavily on donations, the savings that Matt has realized for us are very significant.

In the next year, we plan to add new classrooms and offices to our facility. I am delighted to know that I can count on Matt and Schooley Mitchell to understand the needs for the new facility and to provide us with objective recommendations for communication services and systems that will meet those needs. Also, I expect to engage Schooley Mitchell's service to ensure that the systems and services are implemented per our requirements and plans.

I strongly recommend Matt Schlegel and Schooley Mitchell as trusted partners to help your organization manage its communications systems and lower its communications costs.

Sincerely,

Rev. Roger Morimoto
