To Whom It May Concern:

We are one of the largest General Contracting and Construction Management Companies in British Columbia. We've worked successfully in all types of construction, including: General Contracting, Construction Management and Construction Consulting. As our business continues to grow a general audit of our telecom expenses was required. We didn't have the expertise or the time to carry out this task, so we hired Eszter Farkas of Schooley Mitchell Telecom Consultants.

They offered professional, courteous and prompt service in all aspects of their consulting. We were presented with a comprehensive report that detailed all of our present services, along with Schooley Mitchell's recommendations to reduce our annual telecom costs without reducing our level of service. I was impressed with their recommendations, because it was factual and the report was easy to understand. I was in charge of the final go or no go decision.

Needless to say we are experiencing savings in the range of 35% which is applied to our bottom line. In this ever changing world of telecommunications, Schooley Mitchell is on top of all current plans, rates and technologies bringing peace of mind, knowledge and security to any sized company.

I would highly recommend Schooley Mitchell's team in Victoria as an excellent choice for any business wanting to reduce their overall telecom expenditures.

Yours truly,
