To Whom It May Concern:

We used the services of Schooley Mitchell Telecom Consultants, dealing with Dirk Gombos as the representative, to make sure we are not overspending on our telecommunications monthly bills. The review process Schooley Mitchell uses is professional, and more importantly, leaves all the work of bill assessment, etc... up to them and leaves us to get on with our business.

Schooley Mitchell used their expertise, knowledgeable staff to review our needs. They produced a well organized and easy to comprehend report detailing what we had and how we use our services, and they then offered ways for us to reduce our costs, causing an increase in our bottom line.

I would strongly recommend any company, whether they are small or large, to consider using Schooley Mitchell Telecom Consultants as a focused expertise in review and assessment of the ever changing industry of telecommunications needs of people day to day.
