

To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Jon Fox at EOS Worldwide. Based in Lexington, Kentucky, Jon Fox has built a strong reputation as a Certified EOS Implementer helping entrepreneurial businesses improve leadership, strengthen accountability, and create healthier organizational structures through the Entrepreneurial Operating System (EOS).

EOS Worldwide specializes in leadership development, organizational alignment, strategic planning, team accountability, operational structure, and business operating systems designed specifically for entrepreneurial companies. Jon Fox helps businesses implement practical systems that improve productivity, team collaboration, and overall organizational performance through structured guidance and measurable accountability.

Jon Fox brings a practical, results-focused approach to helping leadership teams overcome operational challenges and strengthen their organizations. He is recognized for fostering productive environments that promote focus, alignment, accountability, and effective decision-making while maintaining long-term strategic direction. Through his practical and results-oriented approach, he continues to help leadership teams gain clarity, improve communication, and achieve long-term business growth.

I highly recommend Jon Fox at EOS Worldwide for his professionalism, leadership expertise, and dedication to helping entrepreneurial organizations improve operations, strengthen leadership teams, and achieve lasting success through the EOS framework.

Sincerely,

John Johnson
