

To whom it may concern:

I would like to take this opportunity to write a letter of recommendation on behalf of Porches on the Towpath. Located in New Hope, Pennsylvania, Porches on the Towpath is a picturesque bed and breakfast that offers tranquility and comfort.

Porches on the Towpath offers a total of 12 rooms, including some that are more intimate, but also many of which that can be combined to accommodate a larger group. All rooms are very comfortable, with central air and private bathrooms. Breakfast is had on its wraparound porch and is prepared using local and seasonal items.

Not only does Porches on the Towpath have great accommodations, but it is also conveniently located to lots of things to see and do. This includes restaurants, wineries, galleries, antique shops, boutiques, and much more. It is also only an hour from Philadelphia and less than two hours from New York City.

The team at Porches on the Towpath will go above and beyond to ensure your stay is as enjoyable as possible. They always ensure rooms are impeccably clean when you arrive, prepare a delicious breakfast for you to enjoy, and are happy to make recommendations for places to eat and visit if you need them.

I recommend Porches on the Towpath to anyone looking for an oasis from the hustle and bustle of their everyday life. At Porches on the Towpath, you're sure to have a relaxing and fun time!

Sincerely yours,
