SCHOOLEY MITCHELL

To whom it may concern:

It is a pleasure to recommend IMSM, a respected consulting firm serving organizations from its Milwaukee, Wisconsin location. Its expertise in ISO standards and management systems, help businesses establish structured processes that support quality, efficiency, and regulatory compliance.

IMSM offers a comprehensive portfolio of services focused on ISO certification and management system development. Its services include ISO certification consulting, management system implementation, internal auditing, compliance support, employee training, and guidance related to standards such as ISO 9001, ISO 14001, and ISO 45001. Through these offerings, it assists organizations in developing effective systems that align with internationally recognized standards.

A key strength of IMSM is its knowledgeable and dedicated team. It is comprised of experienced consultants who bring technical expertise, practical insight, and a collaborative approach to every project. Their commitment to professionalism and continuous improvement has earned it a strong reputation across a wide range of industries.

I positively recommend IMSM for its commitment to excellence and client support. Its extensive service offerings, experienced professionals, and focus on helping organizations achieve meaningful operational improvements make it a valuable resource for businesses seeking effective management system and ISO certification solutions.

Sincerely,

Jay Gillam
Strategic-Partner
Schooley Mitchell