

To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to recommend Impact Focus, a consulting firm located in Frisco, Texas. It has built a strong reputation for combining practical business expertise with mission-driven consulting to help organizations navigate growth, operational challenges, and long-term development opportunities.

Impact Focus provides a wide range of advisory services, including strategic planning, turnaround consulting, nonprofit advisory, capital solutions, and fractional CFO support. It works closely with middle-market companies, nonprofits, community organizations, and growth-focused enterprises to create customized strategies. It also assists organizations with commercial real estate financing, SBA lending, working capital solutions, and governance development to help clients successfully execute their goals.

What sets Impact Focus apart is its experienced team, which brings decades of expertise to deliver practical solutions and lasting value. Known for its collaborative mindset, strong problem-solving abilities, and results-driven approach, the team works closely with organizations to develop tailored strategies that support long-term success and sustainable growth.

I highly recommend Impact Focus for its professionalism, strategic insight, and dedication to helping organizations strengthen operations, secure growth opportunities, and create meaningful long-term impact.

Sincerely,

Mario Robles
