To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to recommend C&B CPA, a full-service professional accounting firm located in Newmarket, Ontario. It provides specialized advisory services that can assist with important business decisions and long-term planning.

C&B CPA offers accounting, taxation, bookkeeping, financial planning, and business advisory services for businesses, professionals, and individuals. Its services include financial statement preparation, tax planning and compliance, business valuations, estate and succession planning, and restructuring.

A particular strength of C&B CPA is its knowledgeable and experienced team. It has a team of skilled accounting professionals, bookkeepers, and administrators with experience across multiple areas. They bring a thoughtful and informed approach to financial matters and provide essential support to ensure that client needs are handled efficiently and professionally.

I highly recommend C&B CPA demonstrates the depth of expertise and broad range of services expected from a full-service accounting firm. The experience and professionalism of its team further contribute to its ability to serve the diverse needs of businesses and professionals in Newmarket and surrounding communities.

Sincerely,

Stephan Lafreniere
