

To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to provide this letter of recommendation for Urban Ministries of Durham, a respected organization in Durham, North Carolina, dedicated to addressing homelessness and poverty in the community. It provides essential resources and supportive services that help individuals and families meet immediate needs while working toward greater stability and independence.

Urban Ministries of Durham offers emergency shelter, housing-focused case management, workforce development, meals through its Community Café, and assistance through its food pantry and clothing closet. Its workforce services include career coaching, resume development, job-search assistance, interview preparation, transportation support, and financial education.

Another notable strength is its dedicated and compassionate team. Its staff includes experienced professionals in community engagement, finance, programs and compliance, marketing and development, residential operations, and executive leadership. Together with its extensive volunteer network and community partners, the team works collaboratively to provide practical assistance and help people move toward permanent housing and greater self-sufficiency.

Its combination of immediate assistance and long-term supportive programs demonstrates a thoughtful understanding of the challenges surrounding poverty and homelessness. I confidently recommend Urban Ministries of Durham for its professionalism, dedicated team, and meaningful community impact.

Sincerely,

Ray McCormick
Strategic-Partner
Schooley Mitchell