

To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to provide this letter of recommendation for Winner Partners, an executive search and leadership consulting firm headquartered in St. Petersburg, Florida. It provides organizations with strategic talent solutions designed to identify qualified leaders while supporting clients through important hiring and organizational decisions.

It offers executive search and recruitment, leadership consulting, and Career by Design services. Its capabilities include executive coaching, leadership development, executive presence, transition services, and specialized consulting through a network of subject-matter experts. Its executive search process incorporates candidate assessments, industry expertise, and dedicated Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging oversight.

A significant strength of Winner Partners is its great team of experienced professionals. Its leadership includes managing partners and specialists in executive talent, leadership development, inclusion, talent development, and executive leadership. They are further supported by carefully selected subject-matter experts who provide specialized knowledge across numerous industries and functional areas.

I confidently recommend Winner Partners for its knowledgeable team, comprehensive capabilities, and dedication to delivering thoughtful talent and leadership solutions.

Sincerely,
