

To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to provide this letter of recommendation for Ron Krit Consulting, a Highland Park, Illinois-based consulting firm dedicated to helping nonprofits strengthen fundraising, develop leaders, and create sustainable impact to help build stronger foundations for long-term success.

It offers services in fundraising excellence, professional growth, and board activation. Its capabilities include development and fundraising, planned giving, marketing strategies, donor stewardship, leadership coaching, communication development, and professional training. It also provides engaging speaking sessions focused on fundraising conversations, planned giving, board advocacy, and effective stewardship.

Another notable strength is the great team behind Ron Krit Consulting. Led by Ron Krit, it brings extensive experience in philanthropy, nonprofit development, leadership, and training. Ron and his team take a thoughtful and collaborative approach to helping organizations address challenges and develop practical strategies that can produce meaningful results.

I confidently recommend Ron Krit Consulting to organizations seeking experienced guidance and a dedicated professional team. Its combination of fundraising expertise, leadership development, and educational programs provides nonprofits with valuable tools for advancing their missions.

Sincerely,

Shane Murphy
