

To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to provide this letter of recommendation for StructureM, a digital marketing company based in Broken Arrow, Oklahoma. It helps local businesses develop strategic marketing programs designed to improve visibility, generate qualified leads, and support long-term growth.

StructureM offers a comprehensive range of services, including marketing strategy, brand messaging, SEO and AI search optimization, content generation, social media management, email marketing, paid advertising, website design, and video and podcasting. It develops customized marketing plans based on each organization's goals, audience, competitive landscape, and growth priorities.

A significant strength of StructureM is its great team of marketing professionals. Its in-house team includes account strategists, paid advertising specialists, web developers, SEO specialists, content writers, project managers, and operations professionals. Together, they provide specialized expertise while maintaining clear communication and a collaborative approach focused on helping clients achieve measurable results.

I highly recommend StructureM for its professionalism, creativity, and strong commitment to helping businesses grow. Its combination of strategic planning, digital marketing expertise, and dedicated team members enables it to address a wide range of marketing needs.

Sincerely,

Ken Poskey
