

To whom it may concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation on behalf of a great company, RCG Consulting. Located in Scituate, Massachusetts, RCG Consulting was founded by Lynne Clyde, who brings over 25 years of senior-level experience in financial services.

RCG Consulting is known for its expertise in risk, compliance, and governance. It provides quality services such as regulatory assessments, compliance program development, examination readiness, and due diligence support. Its tailored approach ensures that each client receives solutions designed to address their specific needs and strengthen their long-term resiliency.

At RCG Consulting, it is the dedicated team that makes all the difference. Each one is recognized for their professionalism, insight, and dedication to simplifying complex requirements. Their ability to collaborate effectively and deliver practical results makes RCG Consulting a trusted resource for organizations across multiple industries.

I am confident in recommending RCG Consulting for its professionalism and commitment to excellence. RCG Consulting is a reliable choice for anyone seeking trusted consulting services and pragmatic solutions.

Sincerely,
