

To whom it may concern:

I would like to take this opportunity to recognize Richard Weintraub, an experienced Certified Franchise Consultant at Your Franchise Advisors. With thousands of franchise concepts available, Richard will work with you to find realistic opportunities and introduce you to the appropriate person within those Franchises. Richard has owned his own franchise in the past and, because of that, is a tremendous resource to someone looking to navigate the rough waters of franchise exploration.

Richard takes a close look at your goals, experiences, skills, strengths, interests, financial requirements, desired lifestyle, and more to help you find the franchise that best suits your needs. His services are free of charge and can help you save time and money by narrowing down the field and simplifying the process.

I have come to know Richard as a professional business person who strives to put his best foot forward everyday. He is experienced, friendly and always easy to get along with. It's easy to see that he takes the time to truly get to know his clients, in order to provide them with the best options possible.

Schooley Mitchell would highly recommend Richard to anyone considering franchise ownership. He has always provided us with the most qualified candidates, which shows just how well he gets to know his clients.

Sincerely,
