

To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to recommend Meg Altemus of First Commonwealth Bank in Greensburg, Pennsylvania. Her expertise and professional approach make her a valuable resource for businesses seeking dependable banking and treasury management support.

Through First Commonwealth Bank, Meg can assist businesses with a range of treasury management solutions designed to improve financial efficiency and cash flow management. These services include cash management, electronic payments, receivables solutions, fraud protection, account management, and other tools that help businesses manage their finances securely and effectively. Her ability to understand business needs and connect clients with appropriate solutions demonstrates her commitment to providing practical financial guidance.

A particular strength of Meg is her extensive knowledge and experience in business banking, treasury management, lending, and financial services. Her professionalism, responsiveness, and dedication allow her to provide thoughtful guidance tailored to the unique needs of each business. Meg's ability to understand financial challenges and recommend practical solutions demonstrate her strong commitment to helping business clients achieve their goals.

I highly recommend Meg Altemus of First Commonwealth Bank. Her expertise, professionalism, and dedication make her a valuable financial resource for businesses seeking effective banking and treasury management solutions. Meg takes the time to understand each client's needs and provides thoughtful, personalized guidance designed to support their financial objectives and long-term success.

Sincerely,

Marc Schwalb
Strategic-Partner
Schooley Mitchell