

To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to provide this letter of recommendation for New Wave Benefits, serving clients from Branchburg, New Jersey. It specializes in helping businesses navigate employee benefits and workforce solutions through objective, tailored strategies.

New Wave Benefits offers comprehensive employee benefits services, including group health insurance and ancillary coverage such as dental, vision, and life insurance. It also provides PEO consulting to help small businesses access competitive health insurance pricing and streamline vendor management. In addition, its workforce solutions services evaluate human capital management options to help businesses select solutions aligned with their organizational needs.

A significant strength of New Wave Benefits is its great team of knowledgeable professionals. Its team takes a personalized approach to understanding each organization's goals and challenges before developing appropriate recommendations. By combining benefits and expertise with workforce insight and attentive service, it helps businesses make informed decisions while maintaining a strong focus on their employees.

I confidently recommend New Wave Benefits for its comprehensive services, dedicated team, and commitment to delivering thoughtful, customized solutions.

Sincerely,

Rob Sullivan
