

To Whom It May Concern:

When you work with a company that exceeds every one of your expectations, you can't help but want to spread the word. I am thrilled to share my utmost appreciation for Turf Management Services in Erie, PA. Their dedication to providing professional landscape services truly commendable. As a customer, I have witnessed firsthand their outstanding work and commitment to excellence.

As a full-scale landscape and snow plow service provider for both residential and commercial customers, Turf Management provides services resulting in grounds that property owners will take pride in and be proud to call their own.

This is my second season using Turf Management as my lawn care professionals and I am proud to say that my lawn has never looked better. They not only service my lawn, but also give me guidance on when and how far to raise and lower my mower deck to make sure my lawn is optimally cut – this demonstrated to me that they truly take ownership of how my lawn looks, which I appreciate. This is a far cry from the service I've received from other lawn maintenance companies in the past.

They are just as great on the commercial side, as many of my clients that utilize both their landscape and snow removal services and won't ever leave them because they've grown accustomed to the incredible service they provide.

What sets Turf Management Services apart from other businesses in the area is their genuine commitment to being outstanding community members and neighbors.

They recently lent their vehicles to Harborcreek Township for a "Big Truck" day, so kids could climb on and play in them. This event brought joy to countless children and families in the community, and Turf Management played a vital role in making it happen.

Additionally, Turf Management Services has taken significant steps to reduce their carbon footprint and promote environmental sustainability. They have replaced all of their two-cycle equipment with innovative battery-powered alternatives. This decision demonstrates their forward-thinking approach and commitment to protecting our environment. By embracing eco-friendly practices, they not only enhance the quality of their services but also contribute to a greener and healthier future for our community.

Whether your landscape is blacktop or blades of grass, I highly recommend you contact Anthony Natale and the team at Turf Management Services. Their remarkable work, dedication to excellence, and commitment to the community and environment make them a truly outstanding business.

Yours truly,

Adam Baker
