

To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Thiru, located in Toronto, Ontario. It has established a strong reputation for helping businesses improve operations and streamline workflows and continues to support organizations by bringing clarity, structure, and innovation to complex business processes.

Thiru specializes in services including RevOps consulting, CRM implementation, workflow automation, AI-powered business solutions, business strategy, and operational optimization. As an authorized Zoho Partner, it helps organizations integrate platforms and systems that improve collaboration between sales, marketing, finance, and customer operations.

What sets Thiru apart is its hands-on and collaborative approach to problem-solving. The team works closely with clients to create customized solutions that increase efficiency, strengthen decision-making, and support long-term growth. Their philosophy of aligning their success with their clients' success reflects a strong commitment to building long-term partnerships and delivering meaningful business outcomes.

I highly recommend Thiru for its professionalism, technical expertise, and dedication to helping organizations operate more effectively while achieving sustainable growth and operational excellence.

Sincerely,

Dinesh Mohangupta
