

To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to recommend CCAI Family Services for its outstanding dedication in supporting children, adoptive families, and orphan care programs around the world. For more than 30 years, their mission-centered approach and commitment to improving lives have made them one of the most respected international adoption organizations in the world.

CCAI offers a wide range of services, including international adoption programs, host-to-adopt opportunities, orphan care initiatives, family support services, and post-adoption resources. It works closely with families throughout the adoption process while also providing humanitarian aid and educational programs for children in need. Through programs in countries such as Colombia, Taiwan, Belize, Bulgaria, and the Dominican Republic, CCAI continues to create meaningful opportunities for children to find safe, supportive, and loving homes.

What makes CCAI stand out is its compassionate and experienced team, many of whom have personal connections to adoption as adoptive parents, adoptees, or family members. Their commitment to personalized support, ethical adoption practices, and lifelong family resources help families feel guided and supported every step of the way.

I highly recommend CCAI Family Services for its professionalism, compassion, and unwavering commitment to helping children and families build brighter futures together.

Sincerely,
