

To whom it may concern:

I would like to take this opportunity to write this letter of recommendation on behalf of a great business, JBS Roofing. Founded in 1982, JBS Roofing is a full-service roofing company that serves both residential and commercial clients throughout Glendale, Arizona.

JBS Roofing provides leading roofing solutions that are affordable, durable, and come in a variety of styles, colors, and material types. This includes foam roofing, tile roofing, shingle roofing, flat roofing, roof repair, attic insulation, gutter installation, roof financing, and commercial roofing. No matter the size of your project, it can handle it all.

Along with great products and service, JBS Roofing also brings an incredible team of individuals to your project. Its management staff has over 200 years of combined roofing knowledge, and the entire team is well trained and experienced to provide a safe and responsible service. They go above and beyond for their clients and strive to build upon a solid foundation of integrity, expertise, and extreme passion.

I highly recommend JBS Roofing for your next residential or commercial roofing project. The JBS Roofing team understands the importance of choosing the best contractor for your property. That's why, they're ready and able to provide quality service and care, without breaking the bank.

Sincerely,

David E. Delles
Business Optimization Specialist
Schooley Mitchell