

To whom it may concern:

I would like to take this opportunity to write a letter of recommendation on behalf of The Law Firm for Non-Profits. Founded in 1986, The Law Firm for Non-Profits provides superior legal and business guidance to non-profit organizations throughout the United States and around the world.

The Law Firm for Non-Profits works exclusively with non-profits and donors, offering decades of in-depth, focused legal knowledge. It provides a full range of legal services and can handle everything from entity formation to complex business transactions, corporate governance, IRS and Attorney General audits, and strategic growth.

The team at The Law Firm for Non-Profits is what truly makes all the difference. Each one is genuinely passionate about supporting, advocating for, and partnering with non-profits and the people behind them. Not only do they have extensive training and experience, but they are also warm, friendly, and approachable, going above and beyond to help clients understand complex legal terms, while conveying clear, effective language.

Whether you are in the initial planning stages or have a well-established non-profit, I highly recommend The Law Firm for Non-Profits to help you take the important next steps toward success. The talented team of attorneys won't just help you handle your legal issues, they'll help support your vision every step of the way.

Sincerely,

Mitch McCoy
