To Whom It May Concern:

Schooley Mitchell, (Lee and Marla Balaklaw), and their team have been our waste consultants for the past several years. They have saved us thousands of dollars, working on multiple locations.

Dealing with multiple representatives, for each service location is a chore. Schooley Mitchell has dealt with rate creep, when contracted rates went up, before rate changes were due. Schooley Mitchell obtained credits for us for the premature rate increase. They were able to decrease rates back to what they had been. This has occurred with different vendors at different locations.

Schooley Mitchell was also able to obtain credits for overage charges for us.

During contract negotiations Schooley Mitchell was able to obtain rate caps limiting the rate increases in the future. They were able to do this for several locations.

Dealing with vendors over these kinds of issues is time consuming. We prefer to outsource this work to Schooley Mitchell so that we can focus on our core business operations.

I highly recommend Schooley Mitchell to those companies that want expertise at dealing with different waste vendors, especially with multiple locations. They handle contract negotiations, review bills each month line by line, and deal with any issues that we have with the waste haulers.

Sincerely

Rindge Leaphart
Chief Operating Officer
