

OLYMPIA

PEST MANAGEMENT

To Whom It May Concern,

Olympia Pest Management is always looking for ways to operate more efficiently while continuing to invest in our team, our customers, and our growth. When Chris from Schooley Mitchell first approached us about reviewing our contracts and identifying potential cost savings, it honestly sounded too good to be true.

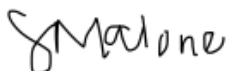

Despite some initial skepticism, we agreed to take the meeting—and we were quickly impressed. Chris clearly explained the process from start to finish, outlining how contract analysis, savings identification, presentation, and follow-through would work. What stood out most was that the entire experience unfolded exactly as promised.

Schooley Mitchell conducted a thorough review of our credit card processing and presented clear, easy-to-understand findings. As a result, Olympia Pest Management chose to move forward with their recommended cost-savings solution, achieving a reduction of more than 18% in credit card processing costs. The process was efficient, professional, and required minimal time from our internal team.

After seeing the results firsthand, we have decided to continue working with Schooley Mitchell to review additional contracts and identify further opportunities to reduce expenses. Chris and the Schooley Mitchell team did exactly what they said they would do, and they delivered measurable results.

I would confidently recommend Schooley Mitchell to any business owner who wants transparency, follow-through, and real savings on everyday operational expenses.

Sincerely,

Samantha Malone
