To whom it may concern,

In September 2024 we agreed to have Tim Jackson of Schooley Mitchell review our credit card processing, shipping, telecommunication accounts to find savings opportunities. At first, I believed our expenses were already optimized and there wasn't room for any more savings. But out of curiosity, and because Tim explained the process is completely risk-free, we had him review our expenses.

We run a busy practice, but always thought that we stayed ahead on controlling our costs and applying discounts. Schooley Mitchell's access to data and considerable leverage nationwide was a huge advantage.

It was a nice surprise when Tim came back to us with a very detailed and easy to understand report for our credit card processing shipping telecommunication costs. His analysis identified 30% savings in credit card processing and 25% savings in small package shipping which helped us reinvest those dollars in technology upgrades.

The process has been incredibly straightforward, and the best part is, they do all the work. Schooley Mitchell's analysts do the research and negotiation. They present their recommendations, and, if approved by you, they completely handle implementation. Then, they continue to monitor accounts and invoices regularly, so nothing ever gets missed.

We are very happy with the work Tim and his team at Schooley Mitchell have done for Tanner Law Offices and will continue to recommend their services to others.

Respectfully,

Tabetha Tanner, Esquire
