RE: Testimonial — Schooley Mitchell Expense Reduction Consulting Services

To Whom It May Concern,

It is my genuine pleasure to write this letter on behalf of Kevin Litwiller and the team at Schooley Mitchell.

As President of Wilmot Technologies Inc., I have worked with many consultants over the years, and I can say with confidence that our experience with Kevin and his team stands out. Since engaging Kevin as our primary consultant, we have enjoyed building a truly positive and productive business relationship.

The results have been tangible and meaningful. Kevin and his team of professional expense reduction analysts were able to identify savings of over 39% for Wilmot Technologies in the merchant services category. This is “found money” that represents a significant impact on our bottom line and that we did not expect to find. That kind of outcome demonstrates both the depth of their analysis and the real value they deliver.

Throughout the process, the Schooley Mitchell approach was professional and thorough. They invested the time to understand our operations and cost structure before presenting any recommendations, and their findings were detailed, transparent, and easy to implement, with ongoing assistance and monitoring from the team. There were no surprises — just clear, well-supported guidance delivered with integrity.

I would recommend the services of Kevin Litwiller and Schooley Mitchell to any business owner or organization looking to reduce their expenses and/or retain more of their hard-earned profits.

I look forward to a long, mutually beneficial relationship with Kevin and his team.

Sincerely,

Everton Wilmot
President
