

To whom it may concern

Skyway's state of the art freight and logistics services to growing businesses and established industries are provided by Skyway Eagle Logistics. Our specialists have streamlined the delivery process while offering our clients state-of-the-art shipping solutions that take distribution and logistics to the ultimate level.

We recently engaged Schooley Mitchell, represented by Dinesh Mohangupta, to review our waste management expenses and Uniforms. Although our vendor contract had just been auto-renewed for five years — with some charges restructured by the vendor at renewal — Schooley Mitchell was still able to identify additional savings of 10.05% with our incumbent provider.

Beyond this, they also presented us with two alternate vendor options that delivered 12.75% savings even after accounting for early termination fees. This gave us confidence that we had multiple viable paths to reduce costs, regardless of timing.

After reviewing our uniforms set up, Schooley Mitchell found that our expenses are already completely optimized. It's a welcome relief to know that our budget has only been dedicated to what truly matters.

The process with Schooley Mitchell was remarkably easy and required very little of our time. Their team was professional, methodical, and highly respectful in their dealings with our existing vendor. In fact, the approach not only preserved our vendor relationship but also created opportunities to strengthen it.

Given the results and our positive experience, we have since signed on with Schooley Mitchell to review additional categories of spend. We would confidently recommend Schooley Mitchell — and specifically Dinesh — to any business looking to optimize costs, improve cash flow, and gain peace of mind that their expenses are being monitored by true experts.

Warm Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jayano", written over a horizontal line.

Jayano William
Director