Dear John,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and your team for helping us take control of our telecommunications services.

As a Vice President, Information Technology, I have many responsibilities and it is hard to find time to deal with details of our telecom contracts, contacts with suppliers, monthly monitoring and changes. You and your team have proven to be a tremendous help in performing these services for us as well as saving us substantial amount of money by switching our services to different providers or renegotiating new contracts with existing service providers.

I would like to extend a sincere thank you to you and your team and recommend your services to anyone who is serious about streamlining their telecom and saving money along the way.

Best regards,

Douglas Topalovic
Vice President, Information Technology
